DEDICATORY INSCRIPTION כְּתוּבַת הַקְדָּשָׁה

הקדשות הן מבנים או מקומות המוקדשים לאלים או לאלות. במקרה זה, הקדשות הן מבנים המוקדשים לאלים או לאלות. במקרה זה, הקדשות הן מבנים המוקדשים לאלים או לאלות.

"Pontius Pilatus, the prefect of Judaea, erected a building dedicated to the emperor, Tiberius."

Reference: The original inscription found in Caesarea and during the excavations of the Herod. It is on display at the Israel Museum in Jerusalem.

Pontius Pilatus was the Roman prefect who presided over the trial of Jesus of Nazareth (Matt. 27:11-26). The content of the inscription and the use of the Latin language hint at the level of Romanization throughout the province, and in Caesarea, at the beginning of the 1st c. A.D.
